General Managers

£35-45K plus benefits & 20% bonus (depending on experience)
London - Science Museum & Natural History Museum

Fuelled by hydrogen? Interested in the deep blue sea? ...from dinosaurs & creepy crawlies to burning ice and life on Mars, these two famous London Museums have it all. The question is... Do you?

We are looking for sparkling General Managers to head up their fantastic catering operations, which range from family dining in the Deep Blue to the calm elegance of home made fruit cake and the finest Rainforest Alliance coffee in the Waterhouse Café.

You will need to be an accomplished manager, with relevant high volume multi-outlet experience, proven team leadership and client relationship skills, with real passion for the excitement of kids and what fuels them. Commercially astute and as innovative and interesting as the exhibits, you will have a track record of business development and strive to deliver the very best this planet has to offer.
